Hi

b6 -2

I am a producer working with David Winton on the National Geographic documentary about the Unabomber. I know you are currently looking into the possibility of us using some photos, documents and videos from the FBI, which we all greatly appreciate. I have some more photos to add to that list, along with an apology for not including them in the first round.

The photos are of crime scenes, the capture, the inside of the Unabomber's cabin and some evidence pictures. They are part of a PowerPoint presentation. It is my understanding that all of the photos in the presentation are the property of the FBI. If that's true, I would very much like to use them- I am interested in every image on the DVD.

Please let me know as soon as you are able whether or not we have the permission to use these. And thanks so much for your help with this!

Regards,

Leigh Scott

Thanks for calling back. I notice the 540 area code. Where do you work? Attached is my resume. Like I explained on the phone, I have scrubbed it of sensitive information to the extent practical. I believe the names, though probably sensitive, must remain as that is the point of a resume. Please advise if any other words need to come out or change before I forward this to the university. If we can get this done in a few days, it will be appreciated. I'll be ready to send in my application today or tomorrow, and it is better to apply ASAP to be sure of admittance in the fall semester and to gain acceptance in the University Education Program.

My apologies, but I have tweaked this now into more of a final draft, and I've added a lot. Can you please read it over once again and let me know if I need to remove or change anything. I've also changed some of the names because I wanted the pseudonym's to not be so close to the real names. Thanks! Me.

Enclosed is outline I discussed with you yesterday. Most of my experiences involved the Cold War hence most were classified. Also two of the most interesting cases were transferred to other Agencies 1) Civilian Walk-In to U S Air Force Intelligence and 2) Gorbachev matter to CIA. I would like to determine the disposition of both of those cases, if possible. The book would also include many humorous experiences developed along the way with sources, though very helpful, were also strange characters fairly well known in the Greater New York area. I thank you for your assistance in this matter and if this requires a visit to the Bureau to personally discuss the ramifications of the book or how I could work around the classified issues, I would be more than willing to cooperate.

Sincerely,
Walter C. Gutheil

Dear Mr. Gutheil,

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) received your submission on June 1, 2010, requesting prepublication review of your outline entitled, "The Special, Special Agent."

Upon review of your outline, we believe that we will need to review the proposed manuscript in its entirety to determine if any restricted information is contained within. It would be most efficient if you could forward to us segments of your draft manuscript as you finish them.

We look forward to working with you in your endeavor. Should you have any questions, please contact [redacted] at 540-868-1697. Thank you for your participation in the FBI's prepublication review process.

I have given the 13 essays written by my working group to FBI supervisors from HQ's DTOPS and FBI's fly team. They have had the essays for 4 weeks and have found no issues related to the points in the Pre-pub guidelines. Am I ok to then move the essays to the publisher? I do not have a "release form" from the Agents that reviewed the materials nor am I aware of one so am I ok to move forward. I could also send them to your office if you would like. I will be placing an appropriate caveat on the essays distancing them from DOJ, FBI, FBI Academy, and the BSU.

I do not see a problem with the employee establishing an outside business that is based in part on what he does for the FBI--as long as there is no crossing of access with the non-public info he could see here with his business. In other words "scanning" and the process for digitizing records is not FBI specific and all he would use in his business is the practical knowledge gained from FBI employment--as long as his business is not for federal clients, nor involves criminals -- say he sticks to civil records digitizing -- then you could comfortably approve his "consulting." The employee should not, however, use their FBI title and position in their business promotion!!!

I hope this helps, and sorry for the delayed response!

Subject: Request for advice

b6 -2

UNCLASSIFIED
NON-RECORD

I have an FD Form 331b, request for outside employment from one of my subordinates and I need advice.

The requestor is [REDACTED] of the DocLab Management & Logistics Unit involved in [REDACTED] document scanning support for major case work.

The request is for a proposed job of "consultant" and "I wish to start my own document / imaging consulting business." He is retirement eligible and explained that he want to start his employment work now to prepare for a larger post-retirement business venture.

This persons primary duty involves providing scanning and imaging [REDACTED] to FBI HQ elements, case agents, and supervisory special agents or supervisor intelligence analysts in the field offices. He is not a COTR but on occasion, he is [REDACTED]

b6 -2

Given the apparent similarities in the functions & expertise of his proposed independent consulting work to his primary FBI duties, I need advice to ensure this is appropriate. I'll be in Winchester again Monday and back in the HQ again Tuesday if it's easier to discuss in person.

Thanks,

JK

[Redacted] I have read the script you sent and reviewed the FD 331 in this case. In short, I have no legal objection to the proposed outside employment. As I read the script, the matter has nothing to do with the FBI (and, therefore, requires no pre-publication review) and there are no conflict matters, no availability issues (the employee can work on Saturdays as is not even required to be present, so she can respond to emergency call,

Attached are two files.

The first is a power point presentation accepted for presentation at the Language Weaver 2010 Government User Event on 24 June 2010, at the Waterview Conference Center, Arlington, VA. The presentation is entitled: Paralinguist Assessment Decision Factors for Multi-Engine Machine Translation Output: Post-edit or Translate. The authors are: Carol Van Ess-Dykema, National Virtual Translation Center; Laurie Gerber, Mitre Corporation; Jocelyn Phillips, National Virtual Translation Center; Florence Reeder, Mitre Corporation.

The second file is an abstract on the same subject matter as the power point presentation. This is a competitive submission for presentation at the Ninth Biennial Conference of the Association for Machine Translation in the Americas, Government Users Track, 31 October - 5 November, 2010, in Denver, Colorado. The theme of this Government User Track meeting is Machine Translation in the Production Pipeline. The Government's contacts are  DIA, and  NASIC. If the abstract is accepted for presentation, a full paper (10 pages) will be required by mid August which NVTC will also submit for pre-publication release.

I'd appreciate it if you please let me know the current NVTC process for submitting these 2 presentations for pre-publication review which I believe now includes both FBI and ODNI.

Attached is my draft thesis for the National Defense Intelligence College (NDIC). As of now, the classification level of the material is ~~TOP SECRET//SI//NOFORN~~. (Please note that the college has its own classification guide, and the style may differ in some circumstances, but it does not affect the levels of classification.)

I am cleaning it up for final submission, and there will be no more FBI information added. I would like feedback by June 24 so that I may get final edits to my thesis committee.

The FBI employees quoted in the paper are one [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] I have forwarded their quotes to them to make sure that I've used them with their permission and in proper context. [REDACTED] allowed me to use materials from his power point presentation. Both FBI employees have consented to the quotes and their context.

Here is the rough final draft of my thesis for the National Defense Intelligence College. I'm currently writing the final edits to the paper and will email the final version to you both, hopefully early next week.

Please pardon my numerous typos and let me know what concerns you may have. I've copied my reader, [redacted] on this email and she will be able to tell you the specifics of the paper when she returns from her vacation on July 6th. Her desk number is [redacted]

I apologize that I've cut it so close with the review process; however, I'm sure [redacted] can provide you with the appropriate feedback when she returns. Unfortunately, I will be out of the office this next week. If you need to get a hold of me, please contact me on my mobile phone [redacted] or through this email chain.

I hope your evening is going well. I have finally finished updating my resume and wanted to submit it to you for review. I am applying for an internal posting advertised through FBIjobs.gov. I have formatted the document in a 2003 compatible format. It was difficult to tailor it in such a way that I could distinguish myself from others but I tried my best. If there are any distinct changes or revisions that need to be made could you please let me know as soon as possible? Also, could you let me know that you received it? I apologize again for the short notice and sincerely appreciate your help and timely response. Thanks again.

Re: NDIC thesis, title classified

Dear

This letter is in response to the July 8, 2010, submission for review, pursuant to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) Prepublication Review Policy (PRP) (Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures (MAOP), Part I, 1-24 and 26.1 through 26.4), of your thesis for NDIC.

The thesis was reviewed pursuant to the terms of the PRP and it was concluded that marked portions contained in the submission fell within a restricted area of disclosure. This is specifically authorized under criteria established by Executive Order 13526, as amended and is to be kept classified in the interest of national security. Therefore, there is no objection to your providing the manuscript, as presented, for publication to the National Defense Intelligence College.

You may include your current title or position as a biographical detail if it is given no more prominence than other significant biographical details, and if it is accompanied by a reasonably prominent disclaimer advising that the views expressed in the thesis do not necessarily represent the views of the FBI.

Should you have any questions, please contact  at 540-868-1697. Thank you for your participation in the FBI's prepublication review process.

Last summer, I wrote a white paper as part of a writing contest in ITB. I am planning on retiring as soon as the buy-outs for my division are finalized. Although the white paper I wrote was for work and is "owned" by the Government, I would like permission to have all publicly releasable parts of this document for my personal use before and after retirement.

On the advice of [redacted] at the FBI Academy, I am forwarding to you the white paper for pre-publication review. Also attached is the message from ITB announcing my winning of the contest, which provides an additional summary of the white paper.

I may be reached by any means in the contact information below.
